Serving, Supporting and Educating Parents on Education

WELCOME PARENTS

When we educate parents on education, parents know what quality education and a safe learning environment are and how to create them.

July 1, 2009, marks the beginning of the end of School Choice based on AYP for next school year. During the month of July, school districts will post AYP data, and parents will have the option to transfer schools based on this information. However, what you need to know to make the best decision for your child will not be in that data; it will be in our seminars.

PARENT EDUCATION SEMINARS / WORKSHOPS

Facilitated by Phyllis Austin, Founder / Educator · Former Teacher and Administrator

A New School Year / Create Quality Education For Your Child

What tests really assess: AYP? NCLB? What you should know before making your school choice decision. Criterion Tests v Norm Reference Tests:

Saturday, June 27, 2009

9:30 am - 11:00 am

Parents will learn the difference between two types of standardized tests and how they are used in NCLB, AYP...including using tests to evaluate, judge, include/exclude students, etc. In addition, parents will learn how these tests are good indicators on progression and regression of a child. Note: Bring a copy of the child's CRCT, ITBS, SAT, PSAT, ACT or any other standardized tests results.

School Selection Pt. 1 - Types of Schools:

Saturday, June 27, 2009

11:30 am - 1:00 pm

Can the quality of education be summed up in a name? Parents, find out what information you can infer about the quality of education in a school from the school's name. Magnet schools v Small learning career communities v Vocational schools v College Prep v Military Academies, etc. In this seminar, you will learn and determine the schooling processes needed for your child, which increase the chance of your child being successful...Learn if your child is in the right school to excel and maximize potential.

School Selection Pt. 2 - Programs/Positioning your child for success

Saturday, June 27, 2009

1:15 pm - 2:45 pm

Parents will learn how to evaluate a program of study for their child, etc. If you are a parent who selected a school or program for its name, you must take this course. In this seminar, you will learn how your child will be positioned based on program of study, the factors you need to pay attention to, and how to position your child for success. Do not leave success up to chance...
